PREFACE

There are years in a nation's life marked as epochs, and there are just as truly books that mark a new era in a nation's development, recording a rebirth of intellectual activity or indicating a revival of spiritual life. As the progress of a nation is too often traced by bloodstained milestones, where the wrestling with angels—or with fiends—has been until the dawn of a day of triumph, so it is with the blood of the reformer that a new era of intellectual or of spiritual life must be opened: a martyr's blood shall be the sacrificial oblation. One may precede and make inevitable the other; one may follow remotely as the indirect outcome of the other. Rarely, however, are a great spiritual change and a political revolution so brought together that one is immediately attendant upon the other, so closely connected, indeed, that the two are really one, each being the consummation of a long series of events that through years have been slowly riving the mountains of prejudice and superstition to open this highroad of a new life.

Thus closely identified are the English Reformation and the beginning of England's greatness as a world-power. The breaking away from old forms, the rending asunder of established institutions of government, the great intellectual and spiritual awakening that came to Britain with the reception by Henry VIII of the Bible in the language of the people, were followed or accompanied by those events of progress which so unified the kingdom as to make it a power to be reckoned with in the world's changes.¹

To trace, however, the rise of England's greatness from the foundations laid in 'a tyrant's strenuous efforts to defend his own position," is not the purpose here. Nor is it the purpose of this work to show how the world-power of the English language lies in its inherent strength; how it was protected during the years of the Norman usurpation: conserved in the great literary monuments of the nation's vernacular; brought again to activity in Chaucer; polished, refined, enlarged by Spenser, Ben Jonson, Shakespeare, and Milton. it is the purpose to show, in some measure, the debt of the language to the translation of the Bible by one who sought to make the Bible 'a book for the ploughboy,' for simple folk; that their lives should be made purer by its precepts, more unified by the teachings of the Old Testament, more lovely by the Sermon on the Mount, more holy by the strong admonitions of the Epistles.

This scholar, in the early sixteenth century, resolved 'that our Bible should be popular'—a book for the people—'and not literary; that it should speak in a simple dialect; and that by its simplicity it should be endowed with permanence,' and, we may add, with power. This determination was manifest in other English scholars who thwarted the earlier issue of the Bishop's Bible, because Gardiner strove to make it a book for scholars by retaining Latin words in place of the familiar Anglo-Saxon. In Tindale's version, one can almost detect the choosing of a word or of an expression that shall be familiar to those Gloucester farmers among whom the translator's early years were spent, that rude folk for whom he avowedly began and carried on his work.

Yet in this endeavor to put the Word of God into the speech of the peasant, there is nowhere any descent to what is common; the simplicity is ever dignified. This must be so if even Sir Thomas More brings no charge of vulgarity against him. He lifted the rude language of the rude people to his own strong dialect, the grand simplicity appealing to high and low alike. When the king had allowed the Bible to be read in the churches, immediately several poor men in Essex bought the New Testament, and on Sunday sat reading it in the lower end of the church; many would flock about to hear the reading.' And it was Cranmer himself who wrote to Cromwell begging him 'to read it [Matthew's Bible], and to exhibit it to the king,"2 and to obtain from Henry 'a license that the same may be sold and read of every person,' 'until such time that we, the bishops, shall set forth a better translation'; adding with honest appreciation of its worth, 'which, I think will not be till a day after doomsday.'3

Although Tindale's Bible, under the translator's name, was never authorized by king nor by parliament, it was Tindale's Bible, called 'Matthew's Bible', that was first sanctioned by the king (1537), and ordered 'to be sold and read of every person.' And it was Matthew's Bible, and therefore Tindale's, that furnished the basis for Cranmer's, or the Great Bible, authorized in 1539 to be placed in every church and in every bishop's hall.¹ To show that it was Tindale's and not Coverdale's translation that was made the basis of the Authorized Version of 1611, is another purpose of this study.

This comparison will show at a glance the changes made by Coverdale, and how many were adopted by the Authorized Version. It will show, too, the limited influence that any other version could have had on the Authorized Version. That Coverdale was familiar with Tindale's version, there can be no doubt. 'Dr. Whittaker maintains that the 'five translations' used by Coverdale can have been no other than the Latin Vulgate, the Latin of Pagninus, the German of Luther, a Dutch translation of Luther, and a German translation of the Vulgate,' 2 all of which resolve themselves to three. Moulton believes that Tindale's should be considered as one of the five, for he holds as authentic the tradition that Coverdale worked in Hamburg³ with Tindale, and in this way became familiar with Tindale's translation as early as 1530.4

That Coverdale was an independent worker, and not a servile copyist, is evident from his characteristic style. Though more diffuse in general, he is often much more concise. When Tindale says, 'The name of the city was,'etc., Coverdale says, 'The city was,'etc., or 'The city was called,' etc. Final e in many words, if pronounced, would give a certain rhythmic effect to Coverdale's diction.

Whole phrases, however, similar to or almost identical with Tindale's, will be noted in Coverdale's Genesis. Moreover, there is in Coverdale a following of the unusual chapter-division found in Tindale, and not used in the Bishop's Bible: so, between chapters 26 and 27, the division is made after verse 33 of chapter 26, thus carrying verses 34 and 35 into chapter 27; between chapters 31 and 32, verses 1 and 2 of chapter 32 are placed with chapter 31; and between chapters 49 and 50, the division places the first verse of chapter 50 with chapter 49.

Genesis is chosen for this study, because that book, obviously the first work done on the Pentateuch, and so the first done on the Old Testament, represents 'the last formal contribution on a very large scale to the English Bible '1; and because it was not the first work done by Tindale in translation. To this work the author came after experience in translating, after the completion of the New Testament. Hence he came with a clearer vision of his work, of its difficulties, and of its importance, even though one commentator remarks, 'Before he hegan, he had prepared himself for a task of which he could apprehend the full difficulty.' That this book, like the others, was in the later edition 'newly correctyd and amendyd,' does not detract from the value of this first edition for our study of it. Strangely enough, quotations in dictionaries for illustration and for comparison are taken from all books of Tindale's Bible except Genesis—notably from Numbers and from the New Testament. More often than from Tindale, the citations are from the Authorized Version or from Coverdale; not infrequently from Matthew's Bible. All these are, as history clearly shows, dependent upon Tindale.

The editions used for this study are: Tindale, the verbatim reprint of 1530, edited in 1884 by the Rev. J. J. Mombert; Coverdale, the edition of 1535, reprinted in 1835; the Authorized Version, the version of 1611, reprinted in 1833. The New English Dictionary has, in all cases, been relied upon as far as that dictionary is at the present time available.

In the Alphabetical Index, words are arranged, generally, in the following order: 1. The first occurrence of the word with like forms through all, if there are such. 2. Variations occurring more than once, in the order of their occurrence, preference being given to those having only one variation. 3. Variations occurring only once, in the order of their occurrence.

Special attention is not given to the different spellings of an auxiliary or of an accompanying word in Coverdale or in the Authorized Version: shall, shal; a certain man, a certaine man etc. Certain compounds are treated as single words: out of, according as, as concerning, etc., and are so arranged in alphabetical sequence. Forms in u for v are generally used with no consideration of difference; but preference is usually given to the form that occurs most frequently.

The † marks a notable difference in translation, but in a passage too long to be transcribed.

From the Alphabetical Index have been omitted the articles a and the, and the personal pronouns.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Professor Albert S. Cook for patient enthusiasm during the long months spent in the preparation of this work: and to members of the staff of Yale University Library for unfailing courtesy.

A portion of the expense of printing this book has been borne by the Modern Language Club and by the English Club of Yale University from funds placed at their disposal by the generosity of Mr. George E. Dimock of Elizabeth, New Jersey, a graduate of Yale in the Class of 1874.

INTRODUCTION

I. A DISCUSSION OF WORDS PECULIAR TO TINDALE OR USED BY TINDALE IN A PECULIAR SIGNIFICANCE

- Adam, 11. 5: The LORde came downe to see the cyte and the toure which the children of Adam had buylded. C.1 has $m\bar{e}$ (men) and AV. has men. This word used by T. for men is retained from the Hebrew. NED. fails to note the fact that T. uses this word for men and that, therefore, the word was long retained in its Hebraic meaning, quite apart from its use by Shakespeare and later writers as signifying an 'unregenerate condition or character.'
- Apparell, 2. 1: Thus was heave & erth fynished wyth all their apparell. C. has, 'with all their hoost', and AV. translates, 'and all the host of them.' A gloss in T. notes, 'apparell, the heavenly bodies.' No meaning is given in NED. that can be construed as signifying number collectively, as host, nor as in any way pertaining to heavenly bodies. NED. gives as one meaning, 'appendages of a house,' in the way of glory or beauty, as is the rendering in the Vulgate: i. e., ornamentum.
- Appoyntment, 9. 13: I will sette my bowe in the clouds, and it shall be a sygne of the appoyntment made betwene me and the erth. A gloss gives, 'appointment, covenant.' In 9. 15, 16, 17, the word used is testament, with a like gloss, 'testament, covenant.' NED. gives the definition

- of this word as, 'an agreement, pact, contract,' obsolete; cites Paston Letters as the earliest use (1440); the latest use quoted is Defoe's, from The English Tradesman (1745). No mention is made of T.s use. Vulgate gives, 'erit signum foederis.'
- Asene, 41. 31: the plenteousness shal not be once asene in the land by reason of that hunger. This form is probably from the obsolete verb asee, a variant of isee, ysee, from OE. gesene.
- A sonder, 1. 7: And God sayd: let there be a fyrmament betwene the waters, ad let it devyde the waters a sonder. NED. does not record just this form in the list of variant spellings, but gives asonder (not as two words): it does, however, cite its use in quotation from C: Erasm. Par. Gal. 1. 15: But me called he a sonder to be his preacher. Again, in illustrating partitive preposition a in combination, it is C. (1535) that is quoted: Acts 1. 18: brast a sonder in the myddes.
- Bisse, 41. 42: and arayed him in a raymet of bisse. It is interesting to note the apparent difficulty over this word. It is undoubtedly from the Latin byssus, 'flax.' The Vulgate has in this passage, 'stola byssina.' In the table of words appended to Genesis, the translator comments: 'Bisse: fyne white, whether it be silke or linen.' The word was evidently 'a mere name to which English writers attached no certain meaning except that of fineness and value,' (NED). In Luke 16. 19: T. translates the word fyne raynes; Wyclif, bys (or white silke); the Genevan Bible, fyne lynen; the Rheims Bible, silke; Bishop's, fine white; C., linen; Matthew's, fine bysse.
- Bothe, 7.21: extended to more than two objects in sequence: bothe birdes, catell and beasts. NED. notes this use as early as Chaucer (1386), Knight's Tale, l. 1440: 'To whom bothe heuene and erthe, and see is sene,' and down through Shakespeare, Bunyan, Coleridge, De Quincey; but T.s use is not cited. Shakespeare, in Venus and Adonis 747, uses four nouns: 'Both favour, savour, hue, & quality.' Lord Berners (1528), Froissart, uses five:

- 'Bothe prelates, bysshoppes, abbottes, barownes, and knyghtes.'
- Brede, 35. 16: when he was but a feld brede from Ephrath. This is equal to breadth; in North of England dialects its use is still common. This combination, feld brede, is not given in NED. AV. has, 'a little way.'
- Bring. This word is used with the meaning now given to lake, i. e., to carry in going; bring to-day is confined to the use with the notion of coming. 37. 28: and sold him [Joseph] vnto the Ismaelites. . . . And they brought him into Egipte, 37. 32: they sent that gay coote & caused it to be brought vnto their father, 43. 11: take of the best frutes of the lande in youre vesseles, and brynge the man a present.
 - NED. notes the singular dialectic use of this word with the signification, to convoy, escort, accompany; this meaning might have the notion of going. But in one example cited, Merlin (1450): 'He brought the on the wey hiderwarde a great part,' the word hiderwarde gives the sense of coming.
- Brode, 30. 42: so the last brode was Labas, and the first Iacobs. NED, notes: 'of cattle or large animals [brood] is obsolete.' This word is given as being in use about 1250, but is not cited later than 1387.
- Buryall, 47. 30: burie me in their buryall. This word for burying-place was used as early as 1250, and as late as 1612. C. (1535) is quoted, from Nehemia 2. 5. The OE. form was byrzels, and was last used in this form in the late 15th century.
- Buttelar, 41. 9: This form of the now common butler was not infrequent in the 16th century; no citation from T. is made, however, in NED.
- Come on, as an expletive, 11. 3, 4, 7: Come on, let us make brycke; Come on, let us buylde us a cyte; Come on, let us descende and myngell thiere tongue. NED. does not note just this use of the word come; i. e., as an expletive without any sense of challenge. The Century Dictionary records it as a colloquialism, in which use it is often heard to-day. Neither dictionary quotes T. Halliwell makes no record of this use.

Curtesie, 43. 11: brynge the man a present, a curtesie bawlme, and curtesie of honey. NED. defines the word courtesy in this use as a mannerly or moderate quantity. Palgrave's use (1530) is the earliest noted; C.s (1535), Kings 17. 20. The last noted use is in 1627. AV. says, 'Take a little balme.'

Either, with present sense of both. 2. 25: they were ether of them naked. C. and AV. both render this passage: 'They were both naked'; 40. 5: And they dreamed, ether of them in one nyghte; both the butlar and the baker. C. translates: 'They dreamed, both the butlar and the baker, every mā his own dream.' AV. has, 'They dreamed a dreame both of them, each man his dreame.' 41, 13: And he declared oure dreames to vs acordynge to ether of oure dreames; C. and AV. omit this phrase. The original sense of this word in OE, and ME. is each of two. OE. $\bar{\alpha}ghw\bar{\alpha}\bar{\delta}er = \text{either}$, each, both, and is so used here, even though it assumes its disjunctive meaning, one or other of two, as early as the 14th century. This latter meaning belonged to OE. awder, ME. oper. This disjunctive use in Modern English is that most frequently used, the first being considered ambiguous. C. is quoted, Ezekiel 40. 48: By the walles also were pilers, on ether side one.

Enhabiter, 50. 11: When the enhabiters of the lande sawe the moornynge. Inhabiter (enhabiter) is noted in NED. as an archaic variant for inhabitant. Wyclif (1388) uses enhabiters, Genesis 24. 13, where T. uses men: 'The dougtris of the enhabiters of this citee.' The Great Bible (1539) uses enhabitours, Jeremiah 33. 5. The use of inhabiter is found from Wyclif through Raleigh to Christina Rossetti, with this meaning of people. The latest use is noted in 1884, in 'Salmonidæ Westmoreland': 'This species [salmon] is not an inhabiter of our rivers,' and probably marks the revival of the old word with a new signification.

Every with betwyxte, 32.16: Betwyxte euery drooue. No such use is recorded in NED.; every use of betwyxte or of between demands more than the one expressed. With all meanings of every the sense of the singular, of the individual, is maintained, and there is no sense of duality, necessary to the meaning of betwyxte or of between. Nor if every is taken in its distributive sense, does it assume the meaning of one and another involved in the use of this preposition.

Faintie, fayntie, 'faint', 25. 29: Iacob sod potage & Esau came from the feld & was faitie & sayd to Iacob: let me sypp of $\forall \text{ redde potage, for I am fayntie. } NED. does not recognize this spelling. The word was dialectic in counties of northern and western England, meaning all that the adjective faint may mean.

Fared, meaning 'to deal with, to treat,' 16. 6: And because Sarai fared foule with her, she fled from her. The same expression is cited in NED. from Knight de la Tour (1450). T.s 2 Corinthians 5. 11 is quoted for its use with this meaning. The more frequent modern use is with the impersonal it; 'it fared ill with him.'

Fawte, 41. 9: I do remember my fawte this day. This was a common form in the 14th and 16th centuries, and was retained in dialectic use in the 18th and 19th centuries. During the 18th century, however, the / was not sounded, though inserted after the French usage; e. g., Pope:

O born in sin, and forth in folly brought!

Works damn'd or to be damn'd (your father's fault)!

Dunciad 1, 226.

and Goldsmith:

Yet he was kind; or if severe in aught,

The love he bore to learning was in fault.

Deserted Village.

Feders, 7. 15: all maner off foules whatsoever had feders. This form in d instead of th is curious in so late universal use as T. makes of it, though it was common in the 14th and 16th centuries (NED.). Lydgate (1430) uses it: 'of his good fame she gan the feders pull.' (Bochas, I. XII.). C. does not use the form, nor does Shakespeare, and it must have been dropping out of use in T.s time. In 1. 21: and all maner of federed foules in their kyndes. The plural federa was in OE. used for wings; and C. has in 2 Samuel 22. 11: He appeared vpon the fethers of the wynde. The nearest form recorded as dialectic use is fed bed for feather bed (Halliwell).

Foule, 16.6: because Sarai fared foule with her, she fled from her. This is used as an adverb, and with the final e of the adverb added to the adjective form. NED. says: 'After the 14th century, the adverb was not distinguished in form from the adjective.' The sense here is harshly, severely; the meaning given in NED. is different. It is unseemly, ugly. 'To fare foule is to behave in an unseemly way.' Chaucer is quoted from Rom. Rose (1366): 'Frounced foule was hir visage.' The latest use cited is 1450.

Good, meaning 'property' 14.12: they toke Lot also . . . and his good and departed. In OE. Luke 12.18 (about 1000), is the expression: 'Ic secge minre sawle eala sawel bu hæfst mycele god.' Many instances of this singular form are cited, even down to Browning, in Guardianship (Red Cott. Nt. Cap. Cnty.): 'Of earthly good for heavenly purpose.' T.s use is not noted in NED. In 14. 22, however: 'Gyue me the soulles, and take the goodes to thy selfe.' This interchange of forms is not infrequent.

The letter J. This form occurs for the first and only time in T.s Genesis in 41.39: Pharao sayde unto Joseph. In AV., while it is not the usual form, it occurs several times: as, 5.32; 6.10; 7.13, Japheth; 10.16, Jebusite; 10.25, 26, Joktan; 36.40, Jethreth. In 22.14 the small j is found: Abraham called the name of the place Jehouahijreh. Yet NED. says: 'It was not till the 17th century, that the device of the two forms, i and j, for vowel and consonant, was etablished, and the capital J was introduced.' 'The J, j types were not used in the Bible of 1611.' In German typography, almost from the first, a tailed form was used for the initial consonant; 'but this was by no means generally established till later.' Louis Elzevir, printer at Leyden (1595–1619), is generally credited with making this distinction, as with that of W and V, 'which was followed by the introduction of U and J among capitals, by Lazarus Zetzner of Strasburg in 1619.' In England, an attempt to differentiate these letters 'was made by Richard Day, after 1587, in the lower case, but no capital J or U.' They were not generally established till after 1630. Samuel Johnson in his dictionary did not discriminate. (NED.)

Kepe, 37. 13, meaning 'to feed the flocks': do not thy brethern kepe in Sichem? C. uses the same expression, but AV. has 'feed the flock'; and T. has in 37. 16: 'Where they kepe shepe.' NED. gives no such specific use of the word, i. e., without the object named. This is equivalent to the New England dialectical use of pasture, or feed: 'Where do you pasture now?' meaning, 'Where do you allow your cattle to feed?'

Lucke, 30. 12: Then sayde Lea: good lucke, and called his name Gad: C. says: 'This is good lucke,' and AV.: 'And Leah said, A troupe commeth.'

Luckely, 39. 23: the LORde made it come luckely to passe. C. translates: 'made it come prosperously to passe'; AV. renders it: 'and that which he did, the LORD made it to prosper.'

Luckie, 39.2: And the LORde was with Ioseph, and he was a luckie felowe. C. uses the same expression; but AV. says: 'And the LORD was with Ioseph, and hee was a prosperous man.' Whether or not this word came into English as a gambling term from the German, it must have been adopted early enough to have gained a very respectable place early in the 16th century, for in all these uses it has the sense of good only, and that quite removed from the element of chance. In 1502, we find in Arnolde Chron.: 'God Almyghty yeue you parte of his saluacion and make you lukky.' Of the adverb, instances are cited from Erasmus, Par. Matt., under date

- of 1548. T.s use of this word luckie is cited in illustration of that form and use of the derivative.
- Lustie, 25. 8: Abraham . . . fell seke ād dyed, in a lustie age. A marginal note gives good. C.s use of the word is quoted in NED. to illustrate the exact meaning here, i. e., full of healthy vigor. Proverbs 17. 22: A merry herte maketh a lusty age. See 3. 6: it was a good tree to eate of and lustie unto the eyes. A marginal note gives the explanation: 'affording pleasure.'
- Mischofo, 6. 12: the erth was corrupte in the syghte of god, and was full of mischefe. NED. quotes the same use from C. in 6. 5, where T. has wekednesse. T.s use is not noted.
- Move, 'breed abundantly' 8.17: let them moue, growe ād multiplye vppon the erth. C. gives: 'Be ye occupied vpon the earth, growe and multiplye vpon the earth'; and AV. has: 'may breed abundantly.' The nearest definition found for the word move to cover this use is 'to be stirred or excited,' as relating to the passions. Here undoubtedly the meaning is to breed.
- Occupie, 'to traffic, to trade, to do business,' 42. 34: So will I delyuer you youre brother agayne, and ye shall occupie in the lande. This is an obsolete sense of the word; used by T., Luke 19. 13, where the RV. has trade. This citation is not found. The meaning here is quite different from that of 9. 7 or 46. 34, in both of which places it has the passive form, and signifies: 'be engaged in labor.' Foxe uses the word with this signification: 'Without loss of time in his own business and occupying.' In 34. 21, is found: 'Will dwell in the lade and do their occupation therein,' where the noun clearly has the significance of business.
- Oke, 12. 6: vnto the oke of More. The word here translated oke is in AV. rendered plaine. In the Hebrew are five words that have been rendered oak, of which only two are held to have certainly this meaning. As the AV. translates this plaine, and as that seems to interpret the meaning, this may be an example of the erroneous or disputed renderings. C. is quoted (NED.) as using this term in 35. 4. There he follows T., but in 12. 6 he translates the word oke grove. Moulton makes the evidence that the books from Joshua to Chronicles are from the same hand as the Pentateuch depend upon the rendering of certain Hebrew words; the word here translated oke is one of these words. Brown, Hebrew and English Lexicon, p. 18, renders by 'Terebinth.'

Once, meaning 'now,' 2. 23: Then sayd Adā this is once bone of my boones, and flesh of my fleesh. AV. has now. T. adds a marginal note: 'once, now (a Saxon idiom).' NED. quotes T. (1526), 1 Corinthians 15. 6, for at once; this seems to be the earliest recorded use of c instead of s in this word; earlier forms are in es, is, us, ez. The meaning of now for once is not recorded at all, nor is it found in Wright's Dialect Dictionary. It is probably translating the German einmal, used in this sense.

Perauenture, 11. 4: 'perauenture we shall be scatered abrode over all the erth.' This archaic form is from the OF. per + auenture, 'by chance' (NED.). In the 15th century it began to be conformed to the Latin spelling, which in the 16th century superseded the earlier form. The fact that T. uses it almost to the exclusion of the Latin form would indicate the general use in the 16th century.

Popular, 30. 37: Iacob toke roddes of grene popular, hasell, & chestnottrees. NED. does not record any such form of the word, nor do Halliwell and Wright, nor does Wright in the Dialect Dictionary (popple = poplar, various species of populus). Wyclif renders the word popul. T. probably follows closely the derivation. The tree is of the genus Populus. AV. poplar; Vulgate, populus.

Rennagate, 4. 12: A vagabunde and a rennagate shalt thou be vpon the erth. This word is defined in NED. as 'an apostate from any form of religious faith,' 'one who deserts a party, person, or principle in favor of another.' The meaning here is, from the gloss, a wanderer, but P. 128.

with the added notion of being an outlaw; and this signification is allowed for renegado, a newer word credited for first use to Beaumont and Fletcher (1611); but this is earlier by nearly a century than Beaumont and Fletcher. Wyclif translates the word vagaunt, i. e., a wanderer.

- Ryd, rydd, 37. 21, 22: 'he wet aboute to ryd him out of their handes.' 'he wolde haue rydd him out of their handes:' The participial form is not given among regular grammatical forms in NED., even though it is used there in the illustrative quotation. The meaning 'to deliver, to set free', is marked as 'rare, but common in the 16th Century.' C. is quoted, Isaiah 47, 14: no man may ryd it.
- Scace, 27. 30: Iacob was scace gone out fro the presence of Isaac his father. C., scace; AV., scarce. This form, apparently dialectic, is not noted by Wright in his Dialect Dictionary, nor by Palmer in Corrupted Words. Halliwell, however, in the Archaic and Provincial Dictionary mentions its use by Lydgate (1375–1461). C. repeats this form, but AV. has the spelling scarce. It is interesting to note this very early dialectic use of a word now common in New England dialect, together with its variant scurce.
- Slee, 42. 37: Slee my two sonnes, yf 1 bringe him not to the agayne. This is a form retained from the OE. strong verb slēan, to slay; it is the second person singular of the imperative mood (made by dropping the an of the infinitive, according to the rule for strong verbs (§ 367, p. 255, OE. Grammar).
- Sotyller, 3. 1: The serpent was sotyller than all the beasts of the felde. This spelling justifies the pronunciation of to-day. It is remarkable that the new spelling, that is, the word-form showing its root-value is preserved. The Century Dictionary quotes the Bible, the AV., and spells the word subtil. The use of the word as a verb, sotiled, is in Piers Plowman (x. 214); so too in Holy Rood (E.E.T.S.), p. 162, subtyll. In the older forms, the b was silent, having been inserted in simulation of the original Latin subtilis. In 27. 35 is the noun: 'thy brother came with subtilte.' The Vulgate, however,

- uses for 3. 1, callidior cunctis; and for 27. 35, fraudulenter.
- Sowe, 1. 11: grasse that sowe seed. This is an unusual sense for the word sow, the accepted notion being to scatter. This signification is to produce or to yield. Webster gives the sense to propagate, which may be accepted for this use; and quotes Chaucer. This meaning, to propagate, is found in Beaumont and Fletcher, Maid's Tragedy 3. 1.
- Soythsayers, 41. 8: he sent and called for all the soyth-sayers of Egypt. This old word, coming as it does from the Gothic, presents, as here found, a unique form. According to the Century Dictionary, Webster, Worcester, Wright's Dialect Dictionary, and Halliwell's Provincial Dictionary, no such form is known.
- Sprete, 41. 8: When the mornynge came, his sprete was troubled. This dialectic form is probably from Lancashire, but there has the meaning of 'a shrew.' The same word is found in Nominale MS., 15th century, with the sense of a soul, a spirit. Cf. the modern sprite.
- Ah syr, 3. 1: The serpent sayd vnto the woman. Ah syr, that God hath sayd, ye shall not eate of all maner trees in the garden. A marginal note suggests 'ah surely.' The use here is evidently in the sense of remonstrance or of objection. C. says: 'Yee, hath God sayde indeed,' etc., and AV. has: 'Yea, hath God said,' etc. This use of sir or syr in addressing a woman is not unusual before the 17th century. The Century Dictionary, however, does not quote T.
- Totehill, 31. 48: and this totehill which the lorde seeth (sayde he) be wytnesse betwene me and the when we are departed one from a nother. AV. has Mizpah. The Century Dictionary gives the derivation from ME., 'a lookout-hill; any high place of observation.' The quotation is from Mandeville, Travels, p. 312. Wright, however, does not note it in the Dialect Dictionary.
- Tyllman, 25. 27: Esau became a conynge hunter & a tyllman. Wright records no such word, neither tilman nor

- tillman, in the Dialect Dictionary. The Century Dictionary has the form tillman, and quotes from Palladius (E.E.T.S., p. 149). Worcester records the word; Webster does not.
- Vnrighte, 16. 5: Thou dost me vnrighte. A marginal note gives wrong. The Century Dictionary records this word with the meaning wrong, injustice. The uses cited are: Chaucer, W.B.T., 237, and Freeman's Norman Conquest, v, 108. It is interesting to find it in common use in T.s time. Perhaps from the German unrecht, which is found here: Du thust unrecht an mir.
- Voyde, 1. 2: The erth was voyde and emptie. AV. says: 'without form and void'; while RV. translates: 'was waste and void.' This is from the OF. voide, meaning empty. A quotation is given from Merlin: 'The voyde place at the table that Ioseph made,' where it has the sense of empty.
- Waxe, 9. 7, with the meaning of multiply: See that ye encrease, and waxe. This meaning of multiply is not given in the Century Dictionary, in Webster, nor in Worcester. This is either a different use of the word, or it is used figuratively with the idea of growing greater. In 18. 12, the participial form is used in another sense, but in the usual one: 'I am waxed old.'
- Wife, meaning woman, 38. 20: And Iudas sent the kydd... for to fetch out his pledge agayne from the wifes hande. The meaning in OE, and ME, is of woman only. Chaucer and Tennyson are quoted to illustrate this use, with the added sense of one in humble station. T. uses the word as meaning not one in humble station, but perhaps as a term of reproach or of contempt.
- Yer, 45. 28: 'I will goo and se him, yer that I dye. A marginal note is: 'yer, before.' This form for ere was found as early as the 16th and 17th centuries. T. uses this form in John 1. 15, in the sense of earlier: 'He that commeth after me, was before me because he was yer than I.'
- Yet, 40.8: Interpretynge belongeth to God but tel me yet. Perhaps translating Ger. doch: doch erzählet mir's.

Ys, 4. 1: 'wyth ... ys wife.' This form for the personal pronoun his is found in the 13th, 16th, and 17th centuries; in Chron. Gr. Friars (1556) is: 'He was dyscharged ys byschopryge and all hys bondes'; in Robert of Gloucester (1297) is: 'He let a monep of p zer clepye aftur ys owne name'; and in Harl. Misc. (1609) is found: 'Man can receive is birth but from one place.'

II. GRAMMAR.

In considering the peculiarities in Grammar found in Tindale's Genesis, it seems best to group them by parts of speech rather than by an alphabetical arrangement.

Nouns and Pronouns in Syntax.

Many nouns have been considered in the discussion of 'peculiar words'; there remain only a few to be reviewed. Singular noun with plural adjective.

V. chaunge, 45. 22: vnto Ben Iamin he gaue .iii. hundred peces of syluer and .v. chaunge of rayment. This word retains even now the same form in the plural as in the singular, with the application to raiment, or garments. The earliest use recorded (NED.) is in the Bible of 1611, Judges 14. 12: thirtie chaunge of garments.

All thynge, 9. 3: so geue I yow all thynge; 9. 12: betwene all lyvynge thing that is with yow for ever; 24. 8: aboue all thinge. This use, unknown to OE., seems to have begun with thing's having a singular and plural alike. All thing is a northern dialectic form for everything.

An hundred yere olde, 11. 10, 11, 12, etc.: an hundred yere olde; Sē lyved . . . v. hundred yere, etc. This word yere is from the OE. gēar, year (singular and plural alike), and the ME. yer, with its plural yere. This is the form used by Tindale, but he uses the same for the singular, 8. 13: the syxte hundred and one yere and the fyrst daye of the fyrst moneth. The form became fixed as a singular, forming its plural in s, with its variant yeares: as, 15. 14: And they shall make bondmen of them and entreate them evell .iiii. hundred yeares.

The possessive form in s without the apostrophe, and with the apostrophe.

As in all writers before the 17th century no apostrophe is used with the possessive case. This is the original genitive form for the masculine and neuter strong OE. substantives. The apostrophe is used consistently since the 17th century—appearing even in Shakespeare, Romeo and Juliet, and Macbeth—marking the elision of the inflectional ending. It was not, however, placed consistently before the s in the singular, and after the s in plurals ending in s; as, 'warriour's arms, or arms of the warriours'; 'the stone's end, or the end of stones'; for 'the warriours's arms; stones's end.' In T.s Genesis is found one instance of the use of the apostrophe, 31. 33: 'Thā wēt Labā in to Iacob's tēte.'

Selfe for selves, 30. 40: And he made him flockes of his own by the selfe. The only explanation of this is that the plural being signified in the first part of what is really a compound, the need for its repetition in the second is not felt. Hence, the inflection is given to one part only. Many examples of this will be found in compound nouns and in combinations not compounded; as, courts-martial, three-foot rule. No similar form, however, is found. Neither Mætzner nor Halliwell mentions it.

Mine with noun expressed.

Myne office, 24. 40: that shalt thou bere no perell of myne oothe; 41. 13: I was restored to myne office.

Her as a possessive of it, 40. 10: and in the vyne were .iii. braunches, ... and her blossos shott forth. The original possessive form for this pronoun was his, from the OE nominative form hit. About 1600, we find it's, which gradually assumed the form its. The earlier possessive was expressed by the use of the preposition of; as, T.s Genesis, 7. 22: all that had the breth of liffe in the nostrels of it. We find this expression also for the masculine pronoun, 8. 21: from the very youth of him.

Numerals.

No difference is noted in recording values, and numerals are therefore omitted; but here are noted various unusal forms used by Tindale for expressing numbers:—

18. 28: .xl. and .v

17. 17: nynetie

24: nynetie . . . and .ix.

6. 3: and hundred and .xx.

23. 1: an hundred and .xxvii

8. 3: an hundred and .L

5. 28: and hundred .Lxxxii.

14. 14: .iii hundred & .xviii.

11. 17: foure hundred and .xxx.

5. 30: .v. hundred, nynetie and v.

7. 6: .vi, hundred.

Verbs.

Many verbs have been treated under unusual word-forms. Here will be considered unusual verb-forms—participial forms, mood- and tense-forms, including unusual infinitives and subjunctives.

Awake, wake.

These two verbs, or this one verb under different forms, are extremely interesting from their interchanged forms, and from the dispute arising as to the meaning and correct use of the forms. In T. we find, 41.7, 'Pharao awaked'; 41.21: 'I awoke'; 28.16: 'Iacob was awaked out of his sleep.' For awake, then, we have past awaked and awoke; for the participle, awaked.

There are three verbs now having really the same meaning in current use: awake, awaken, and wake. The endeavor to confine the first to intransitive use, and the last to transitive use, is quite unfounded in derivation or in usage; indeed, the participle form awaked instead of awakened is now considered archaic (see NED.). The different forms in awake as well as in the simple wake came from the blending of two early verbs. The form-history from awacan, an OE. strong, intransitive verb, is complicated with the sense-history of awaccan (or awaccan, ME. awacche), an OE. transitive and weak verb.

The first verb awacan = 'to awake into being, to arise, to be born.' The second <math>awæccan = 'to arouse, to raise up' (like Latin excitare, suscitare, resuscitare).

The verb awacan, even in OE., began to be treated as a weak verb; and from it comes the later modern English awaken, weak, and transitive as well as intransitive. After a little the original relation of awoke to the intransitive awacan was obscured, and it was treated as a varying form of the weak transitive awaccan.

The strong participle was early in the 13th century reduced to awake, and became merely an adjective (mostly predicative). All forms are now used either transitively or intransitively, though the strong form awoke is preferred for the past action, and the weak awakened for the participle.

Axe.

Axe, 34. 12; axed, 37. 15; axeth, 32. 17.

This form, now only dialectic and that in the remote inland towns or in Ireland where old forms are found petrified, was in general use until nearly 1600; it comes from āscian, by metathesis. Its first changed form was ācsian.

Begot.

Had begot.

This is used many times. NED. gives this as an early form for the participle of beget, but does not cite any use of it as a participle.

Brente.

38. 24: brynge her forth ad let her be brente.

Our present verb burn, burnt, burnt, with its older variant burned, burned, is the offspring of two old forms: First, the intransitive strong verb brinnan, by metathesis birnan; second, the OE. bærnan, by metathesis from brenan. These two verbs, distinct in OE., became confused in the ME. period. Brenne, brent, were the most common forms in late ME. and even to the 16th century, when they somewhat abruptly gave place to burn, burnt. Spenser, however, as late as 1596 uses the form brent: 'The fire which them to ashes brent.' Faery Queen 1. 9. 10. In the 13th and 14th centuries is found the infinitive brennen. It is recorded in the Shropshire dialect as late as 1796, and Mrs. Gaskell uses it in dialect, in Sylvia's Lovers, 1863: 'It were a good job it were brenned down.' T. uses the infinitive bren in Luke 1. 9.

Had corrupte.

6. 12: God loked vpon the erth, and loo it was corrupte: for all flesh had corrupte his way vppon the erth.

This is from the Latin corrumpere; when the verb was introduced, it came in as corrump, with the past following the Latin forms. The English forms then would have been corrump, carrupte, corrupte. Very soon corrupte as the infinitive superseded corrump, but held for some time corrupte, besides corrupted, for its participle. Wyclif (1382, earliest use noted) uses corrupted, but still holds to carrump for the infinitive: 'I shal corrumpe hir vynezeerd and hir fijge tree,' Hosea 2. 12. In 1489, Caxton uses corrupted. Compare, for a like change, the vulgar 'drownded,' and 'attackted.' While T. is quoted (NED.) as using corrupte, it is to illustrate the present form; and no example is given of this form in past or participle.

Digged.

The verb dig was originally a weak verb, having come into the language, probably, from the French diguer. It took its strong past in the 16th century (NED.), but the Bible of 1611 retained this weak form; and Johnson in a review of Blackwell uses this form (1755). As late as 1778 the form is found, and in The Trifler (1789, No. 43, 549). For earlier examples of this form, C. is quoted more than once in those

Bp. Lowth, Trans. Isa., Notes, 313.

references where T. uses the form; T. not at all in OT., but one is taken from Romans 11.3, Dwelled.

This is the form generally used by T. for past and for participle. It is, however, varied by dweld and dwelt.

Forgeten.

41. 30: all the plenteousnes shalbe forgeten in the lande of Egipte.

In get is found the participle geten used in the 14th to 16th centuries; in the 13th to 14th centuries there was a like infinitive form; in the 15th century this is found for a past form. In 1540, Howers of the Blessed Virgin: 'They shall be registered so they shall not be forgetten; in 950, Lindisfarne Gospels, Mark 10. 21: an de is forgeten, and Chaucer uses 'was foryeten.'

Interpretate.

40. 16: When the chefe baker sawe that he had well interpretate it.

This is the participle interpretatus of the Latin verb interpretare. There were at first two forms from this Latin verb, introduced between the 14th and 17th centuries; they were interpret, with its participle interpreted (Wyclif (1382) uses this interpretial), and the variant participial form interpretate, taken more directly from the verb; the second verb is interpretate, with the participle interpretated. This verb was introduced later than interpret, but at the same time as the participle interpretate.

41. 8: but there was none of them that coude interpretate vnto Pharao; 40. 22: eue as Ioseph had interpretated vnto the.

This form was used (1522) in a letter of Bishop Fox; and as late as 1763, we find interpretating; and the form in the infinitive again as late as 1866.

Kepte.

41. 35: and there let them kepte it.

No such form is possible from the OE. verb $c\bar{e}pan$. Is this a misprint of the form kepe?

Late.

24. 18: she hasted and late downe her pytcher.

This form of the past of let is recorded in the 15th century in Scotland. The use is not noted with this spelling.

47. 19: the form latest = lettest is found: Wherfore latest thou vs dye before thyne eyes?

This is not recorded among existing forms. The nearest is lat in the third singular of the 13th century. No authority is cited. This form is found in C.

Layde, reflexive.

28.11: And toke a stone of the place, and put it vnder his heade, and layde him down in the same place to slepe.

Layd is found as a participle from the 16th to 18th centuries and as a past form as early as 1375; but this reflexive use is not common.

Lyen.

34.7: he had lyen with.

This participial form is found from the 14th to 18th centuries; in Merlin (1450), and in De Foe (1722) The Plague: It had lyen much longer.' C. makes the same translation, but AV. uses 'in lying with.'

Lyne.

26. 10: myght lightely haue lyne.

This participial form also appears in the 14th and 15th centuries, and even in 1300 in Cursor Mundi, and Heywood (1624), Gunaik II. 67: 'Oft in one shade the hare and hound hath lyne.' C, and AV. both follow this translation.

Lyfte.

- 7. 18: ad it [the ark] was lifte up from of the erth.
- 13. 10: And Lot lyft vp his eyes and beheld all the contre aboute Iordane.

This is the old past and participle of the verb leftyn. The form lifted, however, was used as early as 1300 (Cursor Mundi). In T. lyfted is used three times: 22.13; 27.38; 40.20.

Make, had make.

2. 19: And after y the LORde God had make of the erth all maner beastes of the felde.

OE. macian had the past participle zemacod about the 12th and 13th centuries, imaked in the 12th and 13th centuries, and in the 14th century is recorded the form imake. This form had make is probably a survival of imake weakened to make. Under the definition, 'to bring into existence,' the only quotation from the Bible is from Wyclif's Psalm 103: There sparewis shal make nestis. In 3.1, is: which the LORde God had made; also in 8.6, is: which he [Noe] had made.

Satt. reflexive.

24. 61: And Rebecca arose & hir damsels, & satt the vp apo the camels.

This use of the pronoun unstrengthened by self is found early in OE. It is noted from Robert of Gloucester to Longfellow; and Southey uses this very form: 'They sate them down beside the stream.' This in modern grammar is considered pleonastic, and often rejected. It is the remains of the old reflexive dative, and is used with many verbs of rest 'admitting a notion of motion.' In this use may be included such phrases as I fear me, I doubt me. and in Genesis 6.7: it repenteth me.²

Sende.

26. 9: 'And Abimelech sende for Isaac & sayde.'

This is the old past form of the OE. verb sendan, coming down to the ME. in this form. In 26. 31, is: and Isaac sent the awaye.

Perfect infinitive for the present infinitive.

22. 10: toke the knyfe to haue killed.

34. 19: 'he came in ... for to haue slept.'

The infinitive never indicates time of action, but merely names an activity going on or in a state of completion at the time of the predicate verb. Mætzner, however, discusses this above mentioned use under the 'subjective supposition not realized, and thought of as not realized.' This is not an old use; the oldest examples cited are from Marlowe and Shakespeare.

Subjunctive forms.

- 1. Present in expressing a wish for the future.
- 9. 2: The feare also and drede of yow be vppon all beasts of the erth.
- 27. 28, 29: God geue the of y dewe of heave... People be thy servauntes. Be lorde ouer thy brethre, and thy mothers children stoupe vnto the. Cursed be he y curseth the.
- 2. Perfect for action to be completed in the future expressed by tyll and vntyll.
 - 19. 22: I can do nothynge tyll thou be come in thyder.
- 42. 15: ye shall not goo hence vntyll youre yongest brother be come hither.
 - 3. Perfect instead of present in future meaning with lest.
- 26. 7: he feared to calle her his wife left the me of the place shulde haue kylled him for hir sake.
 - 4. Past perfect for past meaning.
- 26. 9: I thought y I mighte peradventure haue dyed for hir sake.
- 5. Perfect for past in undecided thought, or conjecture, of fear.
- 31. 30: I was afrayed, & thought that thou woldest haue take awaye thy doughters fro me.
- 38. 11: for he feared lest he shulde haue dyed also, as his brethren did.

The first expresses wish for the future, and is, therefore, put in the present subjunctive form instead of the future indicative; as it would be if a statement of fact had been made, or a determination on the part of the speaker for enforced action had been expressed.

In the second, the entire thought of activity is controlled by completed action of the future, an action in the present uncertain.

In the subjunctive there was, in its earliest and strongest days, little determination of time; but its 'sphere of action' depended, as in the infinitive, upon the time of action indicated by the predicate verb. Under this rule for tense use, the author meant, in the third, fourth, and fifth examples, what would have been expressed by the past subjunctive forms, should kyll, might dye, wouldest take. This is an illustration of the subjunctive feeling towards these acts already passed, in time of speaking, beyond realization; and, therefore, the thought of non-realization is uppermost, and must be expressed by completeness of activity.

Adjective or Adverb.

Evelfauored and leane fleshed, 41.3; evill favored and lenefleshed; 41.4: the evill favored and lenefleshed kyne. The use of the adjective as an adverb modifying a participle is not common before the 16th century, though it is found as early as 1422, tr. Secreta Secret., Priv. Priv. Foxe and Taverner are quoted by NED. as using the form. T.s use is not noted. An early use of the word lenefleshed is attributed to C. (1535), and in this passage.

Adjective in double superlative.

Most hyghest, 14. 19: he beynge the prest of the most hyghest God. Mætzner fails to treat of this emphatic superlative. Shakespeare's 'most unkindest cut of all' has long stood for an authority in this, and as a use without a parallel. NED. quotes as earliest use, Maunde. (1400), but Langland uses the same construction in Piers Ploughman.

Conjunctions.

Excepte, 31. 42: And excepte the God of my father had bene with me; and several other uses (see 32. 26; 43.

¹ Mætzner 2. 72, 92, 117; 3. 59.

3, 5, 10; 44. 23, 26). This use as a conjunction is now almost superseded by unless, and by modern grammarians is wholly forbidden. NED. cites examples of its use from the 14th century to 1877, but does not quote T.

That with other connectives.

Before that, 27. 4: that my soull may blesse the before that I dye. The conjunction that, being in the most comprehensive sense the conjunction of the subordinate sentence, was once attached to almost all subordinating conjunctive words. It is really the demonstrative pronoun that, which is combined with the preposition or the adverb, and so gives to it a conjunctional nature. The omission of that in this use began as early as the 14th century. The AV. takes this form from T. in John 1. 48: Before that Philip called thee, I saw thee. Cf. 33. 18, after that, and 3. 7, how that.

But and yf, 24. 40: But and yf... they will not geue the one, that shalt thou bere no perell of myne oothe. This compound conjunction is used for emphasis; but is the true conjunction, and is 'conjunction conditional strengthened by if,' although it is in itself equivalent to if; as, and you please, for 'if you please.' This and is sometimes weakened to an, Tennyson's Enid 1. 1402: an if he live, we will have him of our band.' Other examples are found in Chaucer L. G. W. 1. 1385, and in C's Matthew 5. 13, T.s Matthew 4. 48: But and yf that evill servaunt shall saye; and T.s Matthew 6. 14: For and yf; while in Genesis 24. 5 is found, what ad yf.'

And as a preposition.

And, 24. 16, 45: And it came to passe yer he had leeft spakynge, that Rebecca came out, . . . and hir pytcher apon hir shulder. This is possibly the OE preposition and formerly governing a dative. NED. gives its use only about 1000, quoting Cædmon.

Double preposition, or the preposition followed by a pleonastic preposition.

4. 14: thou castest me out thys day from of the face of the erth. This is very different from 'the preposition followed by a substantive notion.' 1 Out is a part of the verb cast out; from is the preposition strengthened by the pleonastic of (off). This double preposition form is of early occurrence in modern English. The earliest quoted use is from Cursor Mundi (1425). T.s Matt. 8. 30 is cited for earliest use of off from. In the AV. Exodus 3. 5 occurs the form: Put off thy shoes from off thy feet, which T. renders: 'put thi shooes off thi fete.' In 22. 10 is found: and layde him on the aulter aboue apon the wodd; and 31. 17: sett vp . . . vpon.

From off: a translation of Heb. $m\bar{e}$ al, where $m\bar{e}$, contracted from min, denotes separation, and al, upon; hence $m\bar{e}$ al = from upon, from over, from by (Brown, Heb. and Eng. Lex., p. 758), when removal, motion, etc., from a surface is involved. Cf. Fr. de dessus.

Agreement of the singular verb with a compound subject.

6. 5: the ymaginacion and toughtes of his hert was only evell. Constructions similar to this are to be met not only in OE., but in Modern English as well. 'Hys brayn and wyt ys so febl,' 'Envye and aun yvel wil was in the Jewes' (P. Ploughman, p. 338); 'Kingdom and power and glory pertains' (Milton, P. L. 6. 814); 'My hope and heart is with thee '(Tennyson); 'Poetry and eloquence... was assiduously studied' (Macaulay). This use of the singular verb arises from the notion of the combination of the several into a single conception.²

Idioms.

The study of idioms alone makes an investigation of this kind valuable, for some idioms found in Tindale give authority to expressions holding to-day a disputed place; as, the preposition a, and the use of the preposition of with the adjective all. While many idioms of the 16th century have become wholly obsolete, many are seen to survive with their first strength.

- And connecting two verbs, the latter of which would logically be an infinitive. 45. 28: 'I will goo and se him.' T's (1526) Acts 11. 4, is quoted in NED. as the earliest use of the signification of and: 'He began and expounde.' It was in the 16th century dialectic; it is now idiomatic, and is found in literary as well as in vulgar use.
- At doores, 19.6: Lot went out at doores. This idiom is used by Shakespeare; King John V. VII. 29: It would not out at windows, nor at doors.
- Be as auxiliary of the perfect tense. 6.13: the end of all flesh is come before me. 13.14: after that Lot was departed from hym. 31.22: was it told Labā y Iacob was fled, etc. 'If a few grammarians permit to all intransitives the conjugation with have alone, rejecting that with be, they are in contradiction with the usage of the tongue, although it must be granted that in the course of time the formation with have has gained ground.' Shakespeare uses this even with a transitive verb: The enemy is passed the marsh (Richard III, 5.3) and Miracles are ceased (Henry V, 1.1).
- For because. Besides the combination of that with other connectives, as noticed under grammatical forms, this double conjunction is found, 38. 14: sat her downe at the entrynge of Enaim . . . for because she sawe that Sela was growne.
- Get used reflexively. 22. 3: 'and rose vp and gott him to the place'; 26. 16: 'gett the frome; 35. 1: get the vp to Bethell; 38. 1: Iudas ... gatt him to a man called Hira of Odollam; 39. 12: he left his garment, ... and goot him out; 42. 2: Gete you thither, and bye vs corne.
- Imperative in se. 28. 6: se thou take not; 3. 17: se thou eate not therof; 4. 7: see thou rule it; 6. 20: male and female se that they be.

Infinitive with for. 1. 20: & foules for to flee over the erth; 3. 6: a pleasant tre for to make wyse. This is an old idiom, reaching back to the OE., particularly with the idea of purpose; but it is rarely used out of vulgar speech after the 16th century. It is found, however, in Washington's Journal (1748), and in J. Q. Adams's Letters (1774).

Infinitive with to instead of the present participle or gerund.

11. 9: left of to bylde the citie.

Of. Certain grammarians forbid the use of with all; as, 'all of us are present,' maintaining that the correct form is 'we are all present,' or 'all we are present.' In T., however, this form is quite as frequently found as all without of. 8. 19: all of one kynde. C. and AV. follow the same use. While our present idiom is 'all manner of,' T., C., and AV. frequently omit this preposition. 1. 25: all maner wormes of the erth in their kyndes; 1. 29: all maner trees; 2. 20: all maner beastes of the felde. Mætzner 1 classes this as a construction in which the substantive operates like a preposition. 'He has left you all his walks on this side Tiber' (Shakespeare, Julius Cæsar). In popular speech to-day one hears 'on board a ship' for 'on board of a ship.' With this may be given the peculiar construction, 24, 10: .x. camels of the camels of his master, and had of all maner goodes of his master with him.

Omission of the article. 3. 18: In sorow shalt thou eate therof all dayes of thy life; 26. 8: it happened after he had bene there longe tyme.

Omission of that. 7.23: they were destroyed from the erth: save Noe was reserved only.

Pleonastic forms:

From thence, 27. 45: That will I sende and fett the awaye from thence.

To, 19. 10: shott to the doore; 20. 18: The LORde had closed to, all the matryces of the house of Abimelech.

^{1 1, 244.}

Subject. 4.4: Abell, he brought also of the fyrstlynges of hys shepe; 4.22: Zilla she also bare Tubalcain.

So in measure of degree. 43.34: fyue times so much as. Survived datives. 3.12: she toke me of the tree ad I ate; 31.9: thus hath God take awaye youre fathers catell and geue the me.

Virtual compounds, or phrases consisting of two nouns in which the former has the function of an adjective. 44. 1: the bagge mouth; 29. 2: the well mouth.
